

SUMMARY OF ARTIST'S AGREEMENT

The full Agreement and our Terms and Conditions are available to read and download on the Fevered Imagination website.

- An artist can submit as many books as they wish, to be exhibited and potentially sold in the Fevered Imagination gallery. One-off books and editions are accepted.
- Blank books, journals, altered books and designer bookbinding are not accepted.
- For each art-work you must provide a video as well as photographs and relevant information about the artist and the art-work.
- You must have full rights to the work you are submitting.
- Books will be displayed in various galleries within the website, and the artist will have a Portfolio page dedicated to their work.
- Low resolution images of the books will be used by Fevered Imagination in social media and newsletters for promotion purposes.
- Books are offered for sale at a price determined by the artist and the buyer will pay additionally for postage costs. It is the artist's responsibility to properly package and post the work.
- Returns are accepted within two weeks of receipt. After that period the artist will receive the proceeds from the sale less 15% commission.

- The artist undertakes not to sell the book elsewhere without prior notice. The artist may withdraw the book from the gallery if they wish to exhibit it or sell it elsewhere, but it will also be removed entirely from the website.
- Fevered imagination will act as intermediary between Buyers and Artists at all times up to the point of final sale, and in the case of any dispute.
- Fevered Imagination will actively promote the work of all artists it represents through social media and other channels.
